

Danilo de la Osa

February 11, 1931 - August 21, 2020

Danilo de la Osa

If you knew Danilo he made you laugh on more than one occasion. His smile and spirit filled up a room. The love he had for people made him smile and engage in conversations with 'strangers' daily. He was a natural born charmer...

Born February 11th, 1931 in Havana, Cuba. He moved to Detroit, MI with his mom, Isaura de la Osa Valdes, to be near his brother Mario in 1966. He built a life with and is survived by his bride of 49 years Marilyn (Coty) de la Osa and daughter Theresa (Craig) and granddaughters Brenna and Auralea. His nephews Mario, Eduardo and Henry were all like sons to him. He held them very dear - along with his very best friend of 50+ years, Leo (Noreen) Benancourt.

He was the youngest of 7 siblings, who all preceded him death. Along with his first daughter, Tania.

He started at Foamade Industries in 1967, sweeping floors and learning English, working his way up to shipping supervisor, until he retired in 1997.

He loved good music, especially Motown. Dancing was his favorite thing on earth. "One, Two, Three, Turnaround" was how he taught his daughter to dance (along with another precious family friend Julie (Myers) Beskangy).

While he loved attention and being the sparkle in the room, he wouldn't want you to be sad. He would however, appreciate if you would play this song in his honor and dance for a bit.... <https://youtu.be/fdKsgBNEHUU>

“ I am so sorry to hear about this. Danilo and his brother Mario lived with my family when they first came to this country. My father recommended them for their first job. They would play bongo drums for the children/grownups in our neighborhood. My sincere condolences to his family.

“ I missed him since I moved out of Madison Heights and kept Telling myself, “I need to stop by and see him. “I really wish I would have now knowing there’s no more time left. Truly a wonderful human being and so blessed to have known him and spend time with him. What fun we had! One of my favorite memories when I was trying to interpret his last name, and for some reason I thought Osa was “eye” in English, So I said of the eye? And he literally roared just like a bear, “OF THE BEAR!!”. Which I then replied with “Oh that’s much better!”

“ He sure did light up every room he walked in to! Danilo loved life and celebrations and being a friend. People meant so much to him and he loved and adored no one more than Marilyn and Theresa. I’m so grateful to have been their neighbor for 18 years and to have so often been the recipient of his kindness and cheerfulness and just...him. You guys are in my thoughts and prayers and I love you both!
