“ What a lady! How lucky were we all to be so sincerely blessed to have grandma in our lives? Biased or not, Mrs. Bernard Martin Sr. was the closest thing to a modern day Saint that I probably we have ever met. I love you grandma. Thank you so much for the life that you gave all of us. You are a tough act to follow. You've led MY family for as long as I can remember, even with grandpa around you were the boss. We all, whether wanting to give you credit for or not, tried to live more like you. You were our role model - your kindness, your generosity, your thoughtfulness, your love, your sincerity, your wisdom. You truly were a disciple of the Lord. Every person whose life you touched treasured knowing you, we looked forward to sharing our life with you. Grandma, we will ALL miss you so much. The tears that we shed are selfish ones. We want you with us, maybe I am speaking only for myself, but I do want you here. You are back where you belong, with grandpa. I hope that Grandpa had a manhattan waiting for you. Have fun with Grandpa. Again, thank you for my life - so much of the goodness in me is because of what you have instilled in me, you were so much my life. Even in your passing you have taught me another life lesson - probably one of the most important ones - FAITH. I need to and will believe that you and grandpa are now getting to travel all of the world like you wanted but now you even have a front row seat at observing all that you made. You will live forever through us. Boy, I hope you know how much I love you. Thank you for showing me how to love, thank you for showing me family. Talk to you later, gey.
