“ Aunt Bernardine-my Godmother. We shared so many happy times together, especially the holidays. We loved listening to the stories about your life. A great cook and so generous. Always tried to fill our pockets with something before we could leave. Independent and sharp minded till the end. Never forgot a birthday. It was hard to believe her actual age. Love you and miss you already, Karen

“ Our already small family now has a gaping hole; Aunt Bernardine was one of the last of an entire generation. We will miss her stories about the old days (the one about the nearly one pound apples picked for pies stands out in my memory), her food, and the always on time cards sent for birthdays and holidays. I wish my memory was half as sharp as hers was. We will especially miss her at the holidays.

With our deepest sympathy, Susan, Seren, Kaan (Stephanie) Akcay

“ I remember Bernardine as a good neighbor from years ago living on the same street. Her son David played at my house lots with my children Sheryl and Peter. Seems like Jeff Martinez was over also and another boy Michael Bailey. Oh what good times they had with dressing up for Halloween and birthday parties. Ice skating at Jeff's house in his homemade rink. But most of all I remember trying on my wedding gown and standing outside and Bernardine came over and ask me what I was going to do with it. She said if I did not want it she would send to relatives in Poland for lace was hard to come by. She sent it there and I got a picture threw the mail of a lady wearing my gown. Always thought it was a very nice thing she did. My condolences to the Wozniak family and God's blessings. Some day we will be neighbors once more for my grave site is right next to her's at St. Lawrence Cemetery.

“ While I didn't know Mrs. Wozniak, I know her son Gary. Given his tenacity, commitment, and dedication to his vision of repairing the world through working alongside and leading with a servant's heart his recovering and returning sisters and brothers, she had to have been an amazing woman. Here's to Mrs. Wozniak and her continued legacy lived through the work of her son and her entire family.
