“ Dear Ken, I'm sorry to hear about your mother. I think I met her once. Please forgive me, but we were friends back in the early seventies. You & I worked together driving trucks, for a medical company in Detroit. You left for Calif. to see a high school friend Glenn. You called once to say hi, & that was the last time we talked. I thought about you many times. I live in L.A. now, & this is the only way to contact you. So please forgive me, Your friend, Richard.
