“ My grandma was one of those people who showed love in steady, quiet ways — the kind you could always count on. Every single year, no matter what, she sent me a birthday card. It didn't matter how old I got or how busy life became — that card always showed up. And when I came back home to visit, she always made sure to come see me. No excuses, no hesitation. She just wanted to be there.

She had a heart that was open to everyone — people and animals alike. She loved deeply, she cared easily, and she never stopped giving that love away. Whether it was through her kindness, her time, or simply her presence, she made others feel seen and valued. Love you and Rest easy Grandma.
