“ I sang in concert choir from 8th to 12th., class of 71. He and I had a special friendship. I think he knew I was gay. He never brought the subject up but he looked out for me. I could see this in his eyes. He stepped in to help, when needed and believe me, I was a handful. Thanks for being there for me. Tony Cobello

“ Funny, I can still hear his baritone voice. He knew how to bring out our best. There is none better than Mr G. Mixed Chorus, Glenn Men, Girls Glee, Barbershop octet, Chamber Singers, & of course, his Concert Choir. He gave it his all. We shared his passion for music & in return he worked endlessly for perfection with a smile.

We loved Bruce Graden. He made the world a better place. Rest in peace, Mr G.

“ I was thinking of Bruce tonight, and came here to read all the memories of him. Bruce was my cousin; 1st cousin once removed. He grew up with my mom and her sibs (Janice June, Laura Mason, Hazen Kurth, Marjorie DiFilippo). I wish I could have known him better, but we moved from Michigan in the late 70's, and so I rarely got to see him. I remember as a child in Michigan, he was in a Fourth of July parade in Dearborn. He was playing a calliope, and he played a song just for me; so thrilling! My grandmother, Nettie Kurth, would visit Michigan every summer to visit family. She always stayed at least a week at Bruce and Gaynor's place. Gin and tonics were served every evening at 5pm sharp!

As far as I can tell, Bruce and I were the only two musicians in our large, extended family. I'm very sorry I never got the chance to share music with him. From the comments here, I see he was an extraordinary teacher, and I wish I could have witnessed that.

I remember Bruce as a bon vivant, a cheerful soul and a terrible tease! When I told once my mother hated the nickname "Janie", he gleefully told me he wouldn't call anything else!

Thanks to all Bruce's students who posted here. So lovely to read how he impacted lives for the better.

“ My deepest sympathy to Gaynor and Bruce's family and friends. He was much admired and will be missed by many who knew him. I've always found the following prose comforting at times like this: TIME
“Time is too slow for those who wait, too swift for those who fear, too long for those who grieve, too short for those who rejoice, but for those who love, time is eternity.” ~~Henry Van Dyke 1852-1935

“ I'm Ginny Cook, and I'm Bruce's 2nd cousin and Laura Cook's sister. I didn't know Bruce too well growing up but was very happy that he invited me over for dinner parties where I got to know Bruce and Gaynor quite well. We had a great deal of fun eating fancy cuisine and taking pictures of his cats! My thoughts and prayers are with Bruce and Gaynor at this time of Gaynor's bereavement.

“ My name is Laura Cook, and I'm Bruce's second cousin. I remember fun family get togethers at the Graden home in Dearborn, MI. I really got to know Bruce when we took an airplane flight my first to Minnesota for a family reunion weekend 1987 celebrating my parents 50th anniversary and the Wrays 40th. My coming was a planned surprise for my parents Bruce's idea. I was excited but squeamish, and Bruce put me at ease. Uncle Niles Bruce's dad was also with us. Sun. night flight back the flight was cancelled but our luggage had been sent on so we flew Mon. morning hoping our luggage would be at Metro. Sure enough it was! Bruce was so calm, fun, and a joy.

“ I have many memories of Bruce. Our families spending Thanksgiving together going to Frankenmuth in Uncle Niles trailer, Dad and Uncle Niles in the pickup and the rest of us riding in the trailer; picnics; Bruce visiting my family at the cottage on St.Clair River he was fun to be around. Naturally my best memories of Bruce have to do with music. Visiting at Aunt Muriel's, sitting in library listening to Bruce play. He was also the organist and choir director at Waterman U.M.Church when Barbara Branch and I sang in the choir. With my voice something tells me Bruce would have asked me to leave if it wasn't for me being his cousin. Reading all the memorials from his students was very heartwarming. Gaynor, as Bruce's caregiver, you showed your love these many years and truly you are exceptional. Thank you so much.

“ I am Bruce's cousin, Barbara from the small town of Holly, north of Detroit. When I went into Detroit to visit our grandparents as a teenager Bruce would always get in touch with me and off I would go on an adventure with him. He taught me how to ride the buses and streetcars to get to fascinating places and he showed me many of them. I went with him to a very large church in downtown Detroit, where he had to practice music on the organ for the upcoming Sunday service. I sat in awe of the music he was playing and the beauty of the church. I was truly in another world. But whether we were out on the town or just at his parents home and he was playing Gilbert and Sullivan and we were singing he was always fun to be with. He played the organ for my wedding to my Bruce in Holly. Thanks for these memories and many more, Bruce.

“ Bruce was a lot of fun. Prosaic statement? Perhaps, but it sums up what Bruce was to me. I'll leave it to others to extol his well-known virtues as an accomplished musician and a beloved teacher, his character and integrity, but I'll remember him mostly as just a nice guy to be around. As his sister's husband, I was always treated as a brother, not as an in-law. Uncle Bruce was a favorite of our four children, to whom he was caring and generous to a fault. And I must express gratitude to Gaynor, Bruce's companion for many years and faithful care-giver more recently. "There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

“ My favorite memory of Uncle Bruce happened when I was about 5. He had purchased a cool sports car called a Triumph. He was giving all the visiting relatives from Ohio a ride around the neighborhood. It was almost my turn when my parents said it was time for me to go to bed! Oh no! But Uncle Bruce insisted I have my turn, and I remember putting my hand out while we were driving, and being able to touch the street! I felt on top of the world that night - thanks Uncle Bruce, for caring for the feelings of a little kid!

I will never forget cocktail time and the fun we used to have after choir practice. I remember unforgettable times when Sylvain and I and Bruce and Gaynor went out for dinner and cocktails. What the most important thing for me was Bruce loved everybody, He was a fantastic musician, a good teacher, and a good friend. I miss him already! I Love you Bruce you are a peace now!

“ One of the greatest gifts that Bruce gave to me is my love and appreciation for classical music. He began teaching me how to read music at a very young age. He shared his knowledge and enthusiasm for all forms of musical expression. Listening to beautiful music continues to be a way of life for me. On a lighter note, he gifted me with his unwanted Michigan Football tickets for which I was very grateful. Although opposites, we bonded in all the important ways. I admired his academic record, accomplishments in the world of music, and his nurturing nature. He respected my strengths, as well. It was a good relationship which I will miss.

“ Bruce gave the greatest hugs...I will continue to treasure the memories associated with them. The first one welcomed me into the Graden Family. He was the Organist at our wedding when I married his brother, Ralph. This was a role he graciously took on for family and friends throughout the years. When we attended his many musical presentations, it was clear that he had earned the respect and admiration of his peers and students. It is wonderful to read the love, appreciation, and accolades expressed by so many in the Guest Book. He gave of his time and talents to make a difference in so many lives. Caregiving for his parents was just one way this was displayed. What better Legacy than to have given so much and be remembered so well.

“ My Uncle Bruce was an idol of mine as I was growing up. My Mom had the good taste to give me his name, after all! He was smart, sophisticated, and articulate. But he was also kind, loving, and giving. He shared music with me I would never have been exposed to otherwise. And he always gave the most unique Christmas gifts to our children. I hope I can earn a spot in the tenor section of the heavenly choir he'll be directing. May all of us in his family, as well of his many friends, be comforted by the good memories we have of my Uncle Bruce.

“ So sorry for your loss--to Gaynor and Bruce's family and friends. Bruce's musical talent was shared by many. His first name was given to my husband, Bruce, so in a small way, he will be remembered by this. My favorite memory of him is that ever since the kids were small, we received a box with gifts from Bruce, including one for my mom. The gift for the adults was a long hanging wall calendar written in French. We always enjoyed those gifts and appreciated the love behind them. I still have a Christmas card--paper cut out choir that I display at Christmas time and think of him. Praying for Gaynor and the family during this time of remembrance.

“ Saddened to hear of Mr Graden's passing Many remember him for his dedication to his students as a music director. He had passion & drive. He was fun but his goal for us was with direction & leadership. I choose to remember the man. We all have favorite teachers that pass through our lives. He was everyone's favorite. He was my favorite because he had character. He was humble, honest & a man of integrity. Mr. Graden was trustworthy. He went above & beyond his "duty". He was kind, compassionate & fair to everyone. His heart was big and he gave of himself. He had a passion for life that was displayed through his music. I look at the man he was and I am humbled by his example. He made a difference not only in his teaching of music but as the life he gave to others. I am a better person because of him & truly blessed. Mr. Graden you were loved & will be missed. “ Mr. Graden was one of those teachers, for me, that I can look back and say, "he made a big difference in my life". As so many others have said, he was so passionate about music and he truly loved teaching. When he saw talent in someone, he encouraged and pushed them to be better.... to learn and develop their skills. I always loved to sing and he saw that in me, and took me under his wing. With his guidance, I learned all I could at John Glenn...sang in every choir I could, took extra classes, sang at Solo & Ensemble,etc. I was even one of his student assistants my senior year. I then went on to study music at WMU, and sang with one of the best collegiate vocal jazz groups in the country. I now am a professional singer and own my own entertainment company. It was Mr. Graden's interest in me that gave me the confidence to pursue my musical dreams! Thank You, Mr G. May you rest in heavenly peace! Enjoy the beautiful music up there!!

“ Bruce Graden was man of great patience and tolerance; Qualities he had tested time and again by young insolent youths,as we were, trying to find their limits but never reaching them. He was an educator, some would say of choir or music; I believe he taught more important lessons, those of commitment, of excellence, of dignity. He taught me that although no one is perfect we can achieve our own greatness if we just dare to stand up and try.

“ I am sad to learn of Mr. Graden's passing. 31 years ago, as a senior at JGHS and a member of the esteemed Chamber Singers, Mr. Graden urged me to reconsider my decision to resign from the group because I had a conflict with my pompon team. He believed I could have had a future in Music, between my keyboards and vocals. I did not listen. He even called my parents to see if they could change my mind. It was one of the biggest regrets of my life. I still sing on the side for fun but had I but only listened! Today I have 7-yr-old with a natural born talent and I often wished to find Mr. D to talk about her. Now I'll never get the chance. But to this day, I can NEVER hear a Manillow or Broadway tune without thinking of him. He will remain one of the biggest influences of my life. I loved his enthusiasm and learned so very much that I now teach my daughter. May you rest in Peace Mr. Graden, thanks for the memories and the music! Hugs from Chattanooga!!

“ I first met Bruce at Calvary Methodist Church in Redford. After that I joined the Suburban Chorale where he was director. Such a talented person and besides a great conductor and exceptional composer. We had so much fun and I always enjoyed the performances he lead. Will always remember a kind, fun loving, talented person. God be with you my friend. Jan G

“ I spent a lot of time in the band an orchestra room at Glenn so of course I got to know Mr. Graden. In my senior year I too a music theory course with him and it was terrific. Last year, I heard he was ill and through Facebook, a friend got me information to I could use to contact Mr. Graden. We spoke for a few minutes on the phone about that theory class. Of course, he had so many students over the years he didn't really remember me. But he did remember the kinds of things we discussed in the class. I am glad I got to speak with him and tell him how much his class meant to me. Rest In Peace, Mr Graden. May you be surrounded by beautiful music forever.

“ The orchestra teacher removed me from class my senior year. Music was my life. Even though I can't sing, Mr. Graden saved me by taking pity on me and letting me join the Girl's Glee Club. My condolences to his family and loved ones. I will never forget him.
