“ I just heard of Carol's passing last night. Carol was a friend of my brother, so I saw a lot of llene and her. They were quite a duo, we shared lots of laughs. When my mother was sick, Carol sent her flowers, even though she hadn't been to the house in quite some time. When my mother died Carol came to the house with Michael, not even knowing if we were there or not. She gave me a big hug, which made me cry. I was so happy to see her. I'm just now learning that she was very involved in animal rescue, a subject dear to me. Carol was a sweet sweet sassy gal and I will always remember her. Love you, Carol--Nancy Kirchoff

“ Auntie Carol and her daughter Ashley where always cute together. Ashley was always my big chicken and I was always her little worm. Aunt Carol always found it cute. I think that, that is where she got the LaLa roast from. Because Ashley said she would cook me and eat me. So I said I would fry her.

“ Carol Lynn Hill was the worlds best auntie. She always told me that one day she would turn me into LaLa roast. She said that she never wanted me to be a stinky teenager. She always loved to give me my purple baby spoon when I ate Mac and chesse or yogurt. She always made me jelly sandwiches and shaped them like angels. I loved that. Aunt Carol and I always loved watching my veggietales movies. Or Bambi. Or even Finding Memo. The last movie we watched together was on New Years Day and it was called Good Burger. I miss my auntie Carol Lynn Hill.

“ Carol (aka Lady Polkadots, Dot) You and I were introduced in an online medieval war game, we instantly clicked.

Lady Polkadots, You made the game so much fun, an amazing alliance member, the silly seriousness and skulduggery of KoC, we all had some fantastic times, the kind that only those of us who played will understand.

Crazy Farmer Dot, I enjoyed the humor of you labeling us all as your animals, I always liked my black swan status, quite regal compared to some of the others, cheers for that :)

Animal loving Dot, I admired your passion for the welfare of animals and your persistent posts to help in the finding of lost animals and homing of others.

My friend Dot, always fighting bad health but you fought back so hard and despite your own health issues, you were always there with an ear to listen or a shoulder to cry on, you know some of my deepest secrets.

I'm only scratching the surface of what your friendship meant to me.....It's almost six years later Dot, we've shared laughter and tears both in game and out. We were never to meet in person but that doesn't lesser our friendship any, it's just as real as the girl I went to school with, the girl next door, the girls I party with, you were and always will be one of my closest friends.

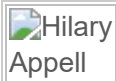

I will miss you Dot, you'll always have a place in my heart, thank you, thank you, thank you for the memories xx
