“ When Chuck first joined our Tai Chi class, you could tell that his personality was larger than life and that we were going to have the best time with him in class. His sense of humor was amazing. For some reason, he decided that my name was Becky. Even with hearing others call me by name, after awhile he had me so well trained I began answering to it. Then one day, a Sensai at another dojo that knows me asked him, "How is Rachel?" And Chuck said, "Rachel? I don't know a Rachel." Well, they figured out between them that it was me. He came in to class and said, "I've been calling you Becky and your name is Rachel." I said, "Yes, I know." And he was such a great sport about it that we laughed and he told that story to almost every new person who started class after that point. And it became a joke between us. He had told me everyone calls him "Chuck," but when he was joking with me and called me Becky I would always call him Charles and he would laugh. Well, Charles, your Tai Chi bestie Becky is going to miss you so much. You would always make a tough day better. You were always so helpful and supportive to everyone in class. I feel blessed to have known you and call you a friend. My thoughts, prayers, and love go out to your family and friends. Rest well, my friend.

“ Chuck was the first Tai Chi classmate to welcome me back in 2018. He was so encouraging and welcoming, with a great sense of humor. He always had a kind word and great advice for us newbies. I will miss him.

“ We are deeply saddened to hear of Chuck's passing. He was the kind of guy you liked immediately. You didn't have to know him a long time or warm up to him. You just liked him.

My wife, Sue, got to know Chuck from Tai Chi class. He in fact was the one who encouraged her to take part in the class to help with her Parkinson's Disease.

I met him a few years ago at the Martial Arts banquet. It turned out we both worked at the Chrysler Jefferson Assembly Plant in the 70's and often reminisced about those years.

Last December when we left the banquet Chuck hugged us and said "God willing I'll see you next year". He will be missed by all.

“ Dear Chrystal and family, I am so sorry to hear of your dad's passing. He was such a kind and gentle man. I am so glad that I did get to meet your dad and spend time with your parents. You were very lucky to have such a special man as your father.
