“ Even though it's been years since our paths last crossed, when I heard of Chris' passing today tons of memories of his spirit and determination came back to me. Rest in peace my friend.

“ Chris, I'll always remember your great smile and infectious fun outlook on life! Over the years since HS I would hear updates on you and as soon as your name was mentioned, I had a smile on my face! You had great courage in seeking enjoyment and fulfillment in life. I hope we can all draw inspiration from your example. We went to a Pistons vs. Lakers game together in the early 1990s and somehow you managed to get courtside and get some great pictures of 'The Shaq' up close. Your charm got you courtside! I know from the comments here that I'm not the only one whose life was blessed by knowing you. God Bless you and while we shed tears today on Earth, surely there are more smiles today in Heaven.

“ Christopher, Your loss came so unexpectedly. I thought many more years we would have to share. But God had another plan and at times the loss and grief are things I just can't bear. We created the most wonderful son. And he looks and acts just like you. I never thought that I'd have to raise him and care for him with out you. I'll tell him that you are in heaven and when you reunite you can catch up on all the things that have been. Hours, days, months and years pass by but the love of a father and a son never run dry. I miss you as the father of my only son but I can't change anything that has happened or what has been. Our son is the legacy that you leave for all to see. And I pray that God has wrapped his loving arms around you allowing you the chance to be all that you can be. I love you and I miss you and so does BRADY.

“ Chris, When I seen you yesterday it was like a dream. I was waiting for you to jump up and say I fooled all of you. You where really good at making jokes, people laugh and smile. You are going to be really missed by so many people that love you. Thank you for all the great memories and stories. Dont forget to keep up with your golfing... Its between you and your dad now. Rest in peace my friend and you will be a great guardian Angel.

“ Katie, I hope these lyrics bring you a little peace & comfort. Here I am, Lord I, the Lord of sea and sky, I have heard my people cry. All who dwell in dark and sin My hand will save. I who made the stars of night, I will make their darkness bright. Who will bear my light to them? Whom shall I send? Here I am, Lord. Is it I, Lord? I have heard You calling in the night. I will go, Lord, if You lead me. I will hold your people in my heart. May the Lord be with you.

“ Chris, it has been a very long time. I'm very sad to hear the news of your passing. I have many fond memories of you and St. Lawrence basketball...in particular watching you at every practice compete with guys much older than you.... and holding your own I might add.... I guess you got that from your dad. I just found out today about your dad's passing. Not a good day.... However, I know you are in heaven with your dad. I'm very lucky to have known you and your family. It's nice to know that all of your friends and family will have another Guardian Angel in heaven looking down on them. Rest in Peace Chris.

“ Every time I saw you in school, there was a smile on your face or a plotting smile. I always thought you were up to something! I didn't know you well, but was glad to get a warm, welcoming hug and a fun peck on the cheek at the reunion. Your energy was infectious! I wish your family peace in this time of sorrow. -Hannah

“ I have many fond memories of Chris in HS, usually involving him beating me at something, Basketball or Chess, but always with lots of laughs. Our paths recently crossed a few months ago, & grabbed a bite to eat. He wanted to play Chess again, but I chickened out. Wish I hadn't, but he knows he would've won.

“ I was so sad to hear this news today. I always remember you laughing, smiling and tearing up the basketball court at St. Lawrence. You were full of life then and am sure that you lived every moment to the fullest. I hope that there is much laughter mixed with the tears at your services. You always made people so happy. Go Mustangs!

“ Chris will always be remembered as the little boy next door. You and Chad were the same age and made many memories together. We'll remember you as the little guy who loved his matchbox cars and the young man always full of questions. May you find the answers now...a life cut far too short.

“ Chris was so full of life. I am shocked. He will be so missed. In grade school he was such an outward tough guy with a heart of gold. I remember him riding his bike miles to come visit me in the hospital in 8th grade. He was my only visitor.
