“ Donna and Steve, To the people I consider to be as much a part of my life long family as my own....I have always remembered a quote, although I can't remember the source or or the exact verbage. I can only paraphrase and hope that the intent is obvious and clear: A man's wealth is not measured by the material possessions he has acquired, but rather by the friends he leaves behind. We both consider ourselves to be wealthy beyond measure for being a part of of your lives, not only as your friends, but also as a part of our family. We love you. Tim and Julie Oatman

“ Donna, I'm very sorry for your loss. Colin and I went to high school together. I have many memories of those times especially how Colin helped me graduate by tutoring my fractured french and bribing Monsieur Cooch with car washes and oil changes. It was Colin who got me hooked on "MAD" magazine. My wife, Judy B'Ham Class of '62 also sends her condolences to you.

“ Mrs. Grant-watters, Though I have never met you or your husband I feel as if I actually know you. I have worked with Steve since 1988 and I have heard many stories about you and his dad. I know what wonderful people you both are and I also know that your son loves you both very much. I'm so sorry for your loss, and I just wanted to send my condolences to you and your family. Sincerely Rob

“ Donna Colin told me the main reason we were such good friends was because we disliked more of the same things than we liked, even though we both liked many things too especially guy movies. Colin will be missed very much for a very long time. Phil
