“ I met Dan here at Detroit Diesel. A fellow/Brother Millwright who, as I found out, went to the same apprentice school I did. That common bond, I believe, helped develop a mutual respect for one another. A kind of "I know where you came from, what you've been through type of respect. One of the "Good guys" who I will missed here at "The Diesel."

“ I met Dan back in 89 or 90 as we both worked(temporarily) at a Car wash, i think we both quit that same day and were good friends up until i moved in late 91 to Texas where I'm still. Dan was a good friend, an honest friend and a generous soul. I lost contact with him over the years and recently came across him on Facebook of all places. We chatted on IM and exchanged numbers. I didn't get a chance to call him but i hope he knows how much his friendship meant to me when we were younger. I personally am going to miss him and i regret not getting to see my old friend again. Rest in heaven Dan and know you were loved by many.

“ I have been flooded with so many memories over the past few days. I can hear his laugh, feel his hug, and see his smile. I remember him throwing me in the pool, pulling me on a sled behind a 4-wheeler, coaching me on how to shoot, dancing with me at my wedding. I still don't want to believe he is gone. I am proud to have gotten to call this man Uncle Dan.
