“Dave and I had been friends for 26 years. I cannot find the words to say other than he was one of the best friends anyone could ever wish for! He was always there for me to talk to or lend me a helping hand! An unconditional and True friend, like a brother! We grew up together from childhood, through our teenage years and still remained as friends to this day. He had the biggest heart compared to anyone I've ever known and he loved his family! He was an example for us all on how to treat others, make people laugh and how to make the best out of whatever life throws our way. A big part of me is missing now that he is gone. I'm going to miss you bro!”

“Our memories of David are connected with the carefree, innocent days of his childhood. He was a bright-eyed, well-scrubbed, cute as a button little boy. Throughout his childhood our family remembers him as sweet-natured, likeable, fun-loving, and very funny. One of the highlights of our Michigan vacations were our visits with the Wunschl family. Though we only saw them once a year, David and Michael Jon were always kind, courteous, and very nice to our daughters and always made them feel at home. Soon into our visits, Tara, Carolyn, Michael Jon and David would disappear off to play while the adults would catch up on the previous year's happenings. We are so glad for the time we had with David. Each life is a gift and we feel fortunate and blessed to have had David in our lives. We will always remember him fondly; he will be dearly missed.”

“ My clearest memories of David are from age 3 up until around 15. His beautiful blond hair and warm eyes come to mind first. Then there is his shy smile and fun laugh. Of course I can also hear him whine in protest at his older brother for teasing him, ôMichael Johnnnnâö I also seem to remember Margaret encouraging him to do a trick, wiggle his ears! And I think he could actually do it! At this time I feel flooded with memories almost to the point of being overwhelming. Yet they keep popping up in my mind while IÆm writing: Playing in the basement Jumping on and off of bunk beds Ice skating Going to the movies Black Stallion and Star Trek IV come to mind Visiting the water park Playing in the snow Sleeping over Eating at a Greek restaurant in Detroit and hearing the waiters shout ôropa!ö Watching, for the first time, Raiders of the Lost Ark, on an actual VCR! For some reason we found one chase scene so funny that David kept rewinding it over and over and over again while my sister and I laughed hysterically. I also went to my first drive-in movie with the Wunschl family when they visited my family in California. We saw Gremlins and it was a bit scary for me. But if memory serves, all us kids slept downstairs in the same room that night and I did not feel as scared with the boys in the room. During all these fun times what stands out to me the most is the laughter. Often, if I laugh too much, I get the hiccups. Rest assured, whenever my sister and I got together with David and Michael Jon I was destined to get the hiccups. We just found them so funny. Perhaps because we had mostly girls to play with in our neighborhood that being exposed to boy humor was a rare and enjoyable treat! I feel blessed and fortunate to have had David in my life helping to create so many wonderful childhood memories to look back on. In my heart and mind, he will always be the warm-hearted, sensitive, kind, and funny boy who I loved to spend time with. I will continue to hold him in my heart this way until I see him in heaven, and we can laugh together again.

“ David was apart of my Michigan childhood. My older sister and I used to visit the Wunschl family our annual xmas vacation trips to Michigan with our parents.After quick hellos Tara and I would disappear, to the basement with David and Michael Jon. We did not need tv because we had David and Michael jon.AKA free entertainment.One time the boys found a puppet and David made it talk in silly voices and pretend to be different people doing a variety of wacky things.My sister and I laughed so hard we cried.David was soo funny and there are soo many good memories on different occasions where the laughter was non stop.Instead of crying over the loss of David I will choose to remember the crazy ,silly things he did and laugh in celebration of those memories.Thank you for the good times David! You will be missed.
