“ I met and worked with Dean when he was starting out in the electrical trade. Somewhat of a mentor at first, I learned a lot from Dean to, We became good friends. Kind of lost touch, as life goes. Last saw him a few years ago. I have many fond memories of working, etc. with Dean. Eccentric and Caring individual I agree, the world will be a lessor place without him. My Prayers go out for You & Him

“ I'm sorry that I did not have the opportunity to share your grief. I was attending another funeral this morning after having visisted my ailing mother in Ohio, yesterday. I read the obituary this evening and I immediately called Sullivan. Since the service was this morning, I was not there for you. Please accept my most profound apology and condolences. We all know that Dean has been reunited with your loved ones who have gone before us. God Speed
