“ I worked with Dennis on the board many years ago. I left drafting in late 1972 and became a Detroit Police Officer, I've been retired now for 11 years. I heard of Dennis's passing through a mutual friend, Bob Simmons. I would like to take this time to express my most humble and sincere condolences to all of Dennis's family and friends, Rest In Pease Dennis.

“ This goodbye is long overdue. Dad tolerated his condition the same way as he lived; with humor. Many people remember his laugh. It was infectious and hard not to laugh with him, even if you were the one he was joking about!! My first travel assignment outside of MI was to MT. Little did I know that I would be taking the same path we had taken years before in a black Blazer. I will always have fond memories of that trip and the sound of excitement in his voice when I called from the Corn Palace. My regret for him is that he suffered too long trying to hold on long enough to make life easier for those he loved and care for even extending beyond his death. It meant a great deal that he always asked my opinion on changes in his condidtion. He relied on me for honesty,to explain things in easy terms and for preparation for what was to come and what to expect. I will miss him more than I can express. My final words: suffer no more! We love you! Let go and suffer no more!
