“ Something I think Mom would have liked to express: At every turning of my life I came across good friends, Friends who stood by me Even when time raced me by. Farewell, farewell my friends, I smile and bid you goodbye. No, shed no tears For I need them not All I need is your smile. If you feel sad Do think of me For that's what I'll like. When you live in the hearts of those you love Remember then You never die. Love you, Mom. Thank you to all who have expressed their condolences...your support is greatly appreciated.

“ Mom's strength, Love of family and friends...endless. Understanding, passion, kindness and patience...always. Humor helped her through the insanity. But above all her faith, love of God and love of family were her sails on which she traveled across the sea of life and into her new eternal home. To say I will miss her with all my heart and soul is the biggest understatement. Perhaps they are not stars in the sky, but rather openings where our loved ones shine down to let us know they are happy. - Author Unknown.

“ It seemed my Mom hung on to make sure she said goodbye to each and every member of our family... With grace, dignity, determination, presence of mind... Tapping a vast source of strength... that knew no limits... I never once heard her complain. Quite extraordinary... Knowing what she was facing, yet continued her lonely march forward... Ignorance was NOT the driving force propelling her onward, nor denial of fact... the missile to naively launch assumptions. She made sure you knew you were loved... Helped you to try to understand she must say goodbye... Ultimately leading by example... against all known and unknown perils, along with all of it's twist and turns... Down a path of no return... with the slimmest margins of error... as if walking a high-wire trapeze with no net, was just an everyday occurrence. Yet she simply ran out of time... Facing a ruthless foe... few have overcome. You will be greatly missed... my heart aches as I miss you already.
