“ Well, I did write something about my Mother, but for some reason, it did not show up Weird. Anyway, What I wrote was that even though I'm the youngest of 8 of her children, yes girl's I said it again. And my parents were older, I thought that they were the best parents they could of been and were. Living with my Mom for 32 years of my life gave me the opportunity to get to know her better now that I'm older ?. I'm alot like her and been told I look alot like her which I'm blessed for that. I do hold something dear to my heart because of that. Looking in the mirror, I see her looking back at me. We have had such a close relationship than ever before and I told her everytime we spoke that I loved her so much and just wanted to know how she felt. and she told me the same. I love you too Mary very much and miss seeing you. I was looking forward to spending more time with her this Summer and even spending a weekend with her. She was funny and sweet and fun to be around.And even though I miss my Dad and Brother Dennis very, very, much, Mom is Mom and I'm very heartbroken and sad she is gone. I will miss her everyday for the rest of my life. But, I do know she is in a better place where she should be, with her other family. And I know I will see her and them once again one day. I love you Mom so much, and I grieve for you everyday. My heart hurts so much. I love you Sweetie so much, you have made me who I'am today. And I thank you for that. God Speed Mom!

“ While I did not know your Mother that well, I do know her lovely daughters, and Mary especially. Your Mother lived a beautiful life and it shows by her family. I will be praying for your family.

“ My mom was the wind beneath my wings we shared some many things from talking about her life as a child to our love of a beautiful sunny day. Many times she would say " Oh, you are just like me" every time I heard her say that I felt I was special. She was a kind soul and had a young spirit and she brought so much joy to her children. A part of me went with her but I am consoled to know she is with my dad and brother and one day we will be together again. I love you Mom!
