“eilene, and i (nora her sister) fought like cat and dog, she was 18 months older than me...but i was the bigger sister. we had to share the same bed, same room, so we both made sure, the other one didn't like that. when we weren't fighting...we played that we were a princess, and a prince, i was the bigger one so, she always got to wear big grandmas sheer curtains. she would run at me and i'd catch her, since i was the prince,,, then we were older, we waited till dad wasn't home, and we play elvis, johnny mathis, but after dinner we would get a fight. sometimes big grandma would get in on it and she would try to hit me with "the broom" but then eilene would tell her we were playing..then, take it to the bedroom. we loved each other, but both of us wanted to be THE BOSS, i'll miss her. we both enjoyed laughing about the way we were rised, she was writing a book about it, hope her kids get to read it.

“My mother and Eilene got along famously after my mom moved into Autumn Woods. She was always kind and generous and just a wonderful person. She will be missed, but I'm sure my mother and her have met again. It was a blessing to know her
