“ Dear Grandma, I'm sorry I wasn't there to see you before you left, you and Grandpa. It's hard to believe I lost the only Grandparents I ever knew and I missed both the funerals. You both were blessed with very long happy and healthy lives. I'm glad there was no suffering in the end and the two of you are together once again. I pray that you rest peacefully and I will always remember you grandma and all the times I used to stay by your house and you would make me waffles: I love you! ~Kristen

“ With Aunt Eleanor's passing, we have now lost all the siblings of her generation in the Fiedler family. But can't you just picture everyone - her beloved husband George, her sisters Frances and Dorothy and their husbands, my dad Harold, Grandma and Grandpa Fiedler, and Jesus Himself, all waiting for her, to welcome her home? There must be lots of hugging and kissing going on; they always were a close knit family! As for me, I will always remember Aunt Eleanor as being warm, loving and sincere, someone who laughed easily and made you feel welcome, someone who wanted to be her best for her family -- and succeeded. I pray, Kathleen and George Jr., that you will be comforted by your memories of the good times and good conversations you shared with your mother, and by your faith that she now lives in God's loving embrace.

“ Dear Uncle George & Aunt Eleanor: Where do I start? Where do I begin? Thank you for welcoming me into your lives with open arms and warm hearts. Thanks for all your prayers and cares. Thank you for the love that binds us together. Thanks for all your letters, Aunt Eleanor- I will always keep them. Thank you Jesus for these loved ones to be apart of my life. Lord have mercy... Christ have mercy... Lord have mercy... Uncle George and Aunt Eleanor, please forgive me for not being at your funerals to pay my final respects and to hold your son and daughter in their time of grieving and sorrow...I had planned to put the recent picture of both of you into Aunt Eleanor's coffin, just as my Dad had asked me to place a letter that he wrote when his sister Francis past away...I still and will always love both of you... oooxxxx Charlie Fiedler Hugs n kisses Aunt Eleanor, just like you always signed your letters.
