“ Dear Henry, One of my fondest memories of Vicky goes back to our friendship when we were in our early twenties. We were up north at a time when the deer were regularly feasting on the Ihle vegetable garden. One night, Vicky and I were asleep in the upstairs bedroom. Vicky must have sensed that the deer were in the garden because she bolted out of bed, ran down the stairs, out the door and into the garden. I looked out the window and in the moonlight I remember so clearly seeing her chase the deer down the driveway with her long blond hair flowing in the breeze. She was beautiful and her beauty and her determination to take action when necessary stayed with her all her life. I will miss her and cherish our friendship forever.
Love, Celia

“ We remember the times we shared, especially at Christmas time when we shared the springerle recipe. It was always a joy to talk with her and share memories of the past. We will miss her. Our condolences to Henry in this time of sorrow knowing their faith has strengthened them at this time.
