“ I would like to express my condolences at this time to your family. The Bible is a great source of encouragement at times like this. A comforting thought is at Revelation 21:3,4, where it states "...And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry be anymore the former things have past away". This scripture gives us hope for the future! You can also find comfort in Acts 24:15 - Death does not end it all. May Jehovah God bring you comfort and peace during this difficult time.

“ Linda Turner-Miller and Sherman Miller I am praying for the survivors, take care of yourself, I understand what you are going through. It takes time to deal with a loss of a loved one. After I loss my parents, i began to focus on what I had gained, as a result of having a relationship with them and other people who pass. Death is a part of all our life journey. Now I can celebrate a person's life. I know that this is part of our destiny. The bible offers a lot of comfort and wisdom. There are countless scriptures to console us while we are in a state of grief. Because, it is nothing wrong with mourning the loss of somebody we love. So again I pray for you, to be able to cope with this ordeal, and survive and resume life to the fullest.

“ I hope the words below will be of some comfort to your family. The Bible states: “As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing.” 1 Corinthians 15:26 Never again will grief-stricken people have to go to a cemetery to bury a loved one. The Bible says: “Death will be no more.” Revelation 21:4 Do you not agree that the viewpoint on what happens at death is a comforting one?
