“ Cousin Beth lived next door to me while growing up in Richmond, Virginia. She babysat on many occasions, and I always remember her being happy and fun to be around. She was always willing to give me a ride on her Tennessee Walker, which I adored. The few times I got to see her as an adult were filled with laughter and fun, even though she was battling cancer. She also held a special place in My Mom's heart, which I hope they are sharing some sweet time together in their heavenly home. Thank you Beth for being a light in the darkness. Lorrie Dicken Stroud

“ We connected because of breast cancer, we became pen pals because of breast cancer. We became connected at the heart because we found that we were a support that others might not been able to be because of breast cancer. But...we grew to love each other as friends because we shared so much. I will forever hold you in my heart Pink Warrior. I love you! Love Pinky-Debbie Duncan🌸

“ My Dear Friend, Beth...If I were to share all the good times we have had, it would fill a book. All I can say is that I am so very happy for you to be with your friends and loved ones who have passed on before you. But I am sad that I will no longer see you here in this life, However I know we will be reunited again in Heaven someday. I will always remember you for the way you lit up a room of people just by walking in the door. I will also remember the courage you fought for your life with all the style and grace of a Lovely and Classy Lady. I Love you, Beth.

“ Beth I will miss you forever. We sure had a roller coaster ride the last year's together. You made me feel alive again. I will miss our late night talks and laughing until we cried. Only you and I could get into some of the situation we worked your way out of. I love my sister the heavens will shine brighter at night now you are there.

“ A true friend to all. A classier lady will never be found. Always a laugh and fun times when she was in your presence. Beth's glass was never half empty-ALWAYS half full no matter what. Sparkle on dear friend. This world will not be the same without you in it.
