“ Dear Jackson family, I am remorseful about your loss and like to extend my deepest sympathy for your loved one Emilie Jackson. From personal experience I know that the death of a love one causes pain and grief and sometimes it seems unbearable. The Scriptures contain comfort that can assist us during times of distress. The ransom of Jesus and the hope of seeing my loved one again in the resurrection brought me comfort. I would like to share these three scriptures with you to give you comfort John 5:28, 29, Acts 24:15 and Romans 15:4. May the God of comfort give you peace and rest. Mrs. Higgins

“Emilie was my best friend. We talked on the phone during the week - she always was concerned about the weather because she knew I hated driving in the snow. She knew I was a big chicken. I would take her to the theater to see the latest pg movies because she loved the animated movies - "Garfield" one of her favorite - she would always let me know which one was coming up - Her whole world was reading - she read the 5th to the 7th grade level books and one of her favorites was "Box Car Children" One day I'm going to read one of them and see why she loved them so. Every week sometimes more, or less I would receive a surprise in the mail, one of her pictures she colored from her coloring books. I would hang it on the fridge. She also loved to play bingo and dominos - Twice a week at Casa Maria's they played Bingo Fri and Sat that's where you could find Emilie in the room where they played. She was happy and always so grateful for the smallest things. Who else do you know would think they died and went to Heaven, with a gift of a puzzle book, a new box of crayolas, or another book to read? or maybe a movie to watch - "Peter Pan" was the last one I bought her I love you Em. I'll miss your phone calls and I'll miss that sweet face. You were my friend, my best friend. I couldn't call her my "best" friend until after my sister-in-law, Rita, died; because Rita was her "best" friend since she wa a little girl. You're "my girl" Em.

“Emilie was one of a kind. I will never forget her laugh or the kind way that she always asked about my family. When they came to visit, she was sure to share a hug with my sons and to give me advice on what they should be reading. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers.
