“ Frank worked on many of the same committees that I was on back in the 70's & into the 80's, and what he brought to the experience was an uncanny wit and humor that I think he became famous for. He had the best stories and the had incredible comic timing. He was so good, we couldn't imagine a meeting or gathering or event or party without him. He influenced politics, both gay and straight in many ways, including influencing the people he worked with. He co-created a legendary partnership with Al. To me, his views and his life were very humanistic and forgiving.

“ Al: I'm sorry to hear of Frank's passing. Thinking back to those days of yesteryear brings back fond memories of you and Frank. He was a sincerely nice and interesting person. If there is anything I can do let me know. Maybe it's time to reconvene a meeting of the Gate 2 bunch. Again, my sincere condolences to you.
