“ You don't realise the little habits that people have that go on through out your everyday, until they don't happen anymore. I miss Bill, I miss seeing him get his banana out for breakfast, turning off the t.v. and telling everyone to "get off your asses and get to work", pulling in and out of his parking spot always with a smile on his face when he returned. He always had his office door open for anyone. He was a great man, and with deepest sympathy I am so sorry for you loss. He'll be greatly missed.

“ Joyce, Tom and I have though of you and Bill so much these past few days. Bill was a great guy. I was so comfortable with him even on my first interview. We have many good memories of him at work. He always teased me about being TOO HOT, and always told me not to sing!! He will surely be missed, but always remembered. You are in our prayers.

“Joyce my feelings are with you in this time of sorrow. I will always remember Bill, one for sure way is when I hear the phrase "can you here me now?" For example, just one of many ways that sticks with me, Bill was on the phone at the dispatch counter trying to get this elderly lady to understand what she was saying and he asked her "can you here now?" we busted up and joked about it off and on so BILL CAN YOU HERE ME NOW I WILL MISS YOU!

“Joyce, I cannot seem to muster the words to express my sorrow for you. I do know that there were none better than Bill & Michael & that in itself is a real tribute to you. You were blessed with their presence in your life & know that you will be re-united one day. You now have two angels looking over you. I pray for strength for you to make it through these trying days ahead & for the comfort of having been so loved by such a wonderful human being. Bill & Michael both left some permanent foot prints in this life. I love you my friend.

“Joyce and Lucky: Our hearts are broken over your tremendous loss. Bill is with Mike now and I am sure wants us all to be strong and to live life to its fullest. Our love and support you can always count on; please lean heavily on us when the time comes. We wish we could be there...but we are in spirit. We are praying for you and hurting as well. God bless Bill and those many who loved him.
