“ Garry and I nearly shared our birthdays, however I was two days older much to his childhood dislikes. As cousins, we spent many times together growing up, that I will always remember. He was a dear friend even though we didn't see each other as we grew older and lived so far away from each other. My condolences go out to his dear family that he loves so much. With LOVE, Nancy

“ I will miss him greatly. I didn't see much of him over the years, but always knew he was there. We shared many of the same childhood memories. A lot of chores, chores, and more chores. It didn't hurt us, but at the time we were not sure. God Bless Gary, travel safe.

“ I spoke with Gary about 2 months ago at the urging of Scott Cooper, another cousin and had a wonderful conversation. He was obviously in some physical distress by his voice, but our talk didn't touch on that. It was about what he had done at the Chrysler design shop, what Russell was doing, his neighborhood changes, his plans to sell his house and help Russell buy one closer to his work, etc. His laughter was a treat – sort of a musical, soft chuckle. It always made me try to get him laughing. It just seemed to brighten my soul. I know we weren't nearly close enough - it seems to be more obvious as one ages, but I will miss this tall wonderful cousin.

“ I last saw Gary at the Bush Family Reunion. Like all of my memories of him, he was focused on the positive things in life and joy always seemed to be part of his persona. What a happy occasion to spend time with him talking about his work, children and family memories.

“ I am so saddened by this and want to send my deepest condolences. I worked for George and found he was always very fair and always stood up for what he felt was right. He defended me many times against the unjust accusations of others and I respected him when he gave constructive advice. He was a great man and an honest man. He will be very missed.
