“ My grandma completely accepted me at any stage of life. I could always count on her to be my cheerleader, provide good real life advice on how to handle things. I knew I could drop in or invite myself anytime to spend the night and I would be welcomed. She taught me poise, class, and honoring God. She taught me to crochet, patiently helping me turn at the corners. You could walk in her front door and feel peace. She and I shared our love for plants. She was the first person I would contact when I saw the first skunk cabbage pushing up through the snow or when my magnolia started flowering in the Spring. As a young woman, Grandma went door to door with the Gospel presenters telling people about salvation through Jesus Christ. I am certain she stands in the bright sunlight with Grandpa and Jesus in paradise today, smiling and energetic still. No one will ever be you..I am certain we will embrace again in heaven. I love you, my grandma.

“ Grandma Finlay was a wonderful woman. She supported me in everything and would think the simplest things I said were fascinating. She loved her garden and wore flip flops in the coldest of weather because they were comfortable. Every time I'd go to her house she'd make sure I had a cup of tea and some snacks. She'd be the first volunteer to say the family prayer. I will miss her so much.

“ Gerry was a true Prayer Warrior! She was such A Godly woman who lived her life for Christ! When she said she was going to pray for you- You knew she would pray for you! She would greet you with a hug and I will always remember her standing in the back of church every Sunday greeting all who walked in and with her hands raised in Praise of her Lord! I know she was greeted with The Lord saying “Well done My good and faithful servant. Welcome a Home!”

“ Sue and Leo, and all of your family, I am so sorry that you have lost your beautiful, precious Mom!, grandmother ,and great grandmother ! How lucky were you to have her with you for sooo long! I know she was a woman of great faith, as are you, so knowing she is with God, right at this very moment, must be so very comforting. Love and hugs are being sent your way, grab what you need and pass the rest around 🤗. Know that you are loved !

“ So sorry, Sue. Mothers are a big part of our lives and I know from our conversations at Apollo that your Mother was a very large, important part of your life. I know you have a strong, deeply rooted faith and that is what will help you cope with her loss. Prayers going out to you and your family. Ralph

“ So sorry for your loss of such a sweet loving woman of God. I very much remember her sweet spirit when we were all members of Christian Community Center. We may all have scattered in different directions, but will always have the wonderful memories. God bless and comfort each of her children and her extended family. Marsha.
