“ Harold and myself were sitting in the driver's room one day shortly after I had been hired, we started talking about the city of Troy for some reason and I mentioned that it used to be a sleepy farm town when I was growing up. Harold started asking me where I used to live and what school I went to, turns out we both went to the old Poppleton elementary school had some of the same teachers and knew alot of the same families that went there. We had lots of stories to share and I enjoyed the time we spent together. I am so sorry for your loss as well as your family.
