“ Hello, my name is Lyndsey. Even though we don't know each other, I'd like to express my condolences and sympathy for your loss. The Bible has so many scriptures that give us hope and comfort during times like these. One of my favorite scriptures is at Revelation 21 and verse 4-"And heGod will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." There has never been any death in heaven, so God wouldn't need to wipe away death form heaven. Rather, since there is death here on earth, God is going to get rid of it forever, along with pain, mourning tears, and sickness. It is hard to imagine this world without suffering and death, but when God makes a promise, it always comes true. He can never lie. Another comforting scripture is found at Psalm 46:1-" God is our refuge and strength, A help that is readily found in times of distress." Whenever we go through challenging times, like losing a dearly loved one in death, God is always there for us whenever we need him. We can pray to him and "throw all our anxiety on him, because he cares for you." 1 Peter 5:7 God cares for all of us. He loves your family dearly, and understands your situation and what your going through perfectly, more than anyone else could. Remember that God is always there and will never ignore you or put you on hold when we want to talk to him. He truly cares for us, and will help us when we ask him. I hope these scriptures will bring your family much comfort, hope, and encouragement. Take Care, Lyndsey D.
