“Dad, I just left a message on Aunt Katherine's guestbook. I am getting ready to go see her for the last time. She has been called home. While I am learning to be ok with losing you, I still don't understand why this is all happening so fast. I wanted to get over to see her since October, but just been busy with the holidays and such. It's a terrible excuse, I know, but I do love her. Please help me to stay strong the next couple of days dad. Still loving you. Sandy

“So dad this was my first Christmas without you. I really missed you. Especially New Year's at midnight. I always called you at midnight to tell you Happy New Year, and it was always nice to hear your voice. This year I wanted to call you but that wasn't possible. You would be happy to know that we all remembered you for Christmas by giving gifts of you. Ken, Jackie, Sandy, and me all went to the cemetery the day before Ken's big Christmas Eve night just to visit you and feel close. I love you too much, but I keep pushing myself as I know you would have wanted that of me. I keep waiting for Holidays to get easier now that your gone, but it hasn't happened yet. Rest in peace dad.

“ I have had the hardest time letting go. I hope you are in a better place, where you can see and dance and spread your warmth to people that need it. I am trying not to be selfish, so I will say goodbye. I want to thank you for loving me when I wasn't always lovable, and thank you for giving my boys a good role model. You have shared some great memories with them that they will never forget. Thanks for coming to my wedding dad. I'm thankful you were here to support me through the hard times in my life. I love you and will talk to you and pray to you everyday. Until we meet again dad-goodnight, God bless and I Love You.

“ It is with heavy heart that I have to say goodbye to my father, my friend. When I think of you I will remember a great dancer, listener, supporter, my source of pride, always my shoulder to cry on. You have gone through some bad times and you have gone through some good times, fortunately for you the good times outweigh the bad. You lived your life everyday to the fullest. If I could of had you one more day I would of wanted you forever! I will miss your smile, our breakfast on Saturdays and all your silly, noisy stuffed animals that always made you smile. I promise to take care of your "Pretty Bird" even though I don't sound like you, I will give him the love and talk to him daily as you did. Sandy, Ken and myself will struggle to get through life without you, but you will always be in our hearts and you would be proud of everything we have done together. I will always love you dad. “ Grandpa you are the best any grand-daughter could ask for. I am proud to be your only grand-daughter. I am so happy to have been able to give you two beautiful grand babies. They loved you so much. I wish you could have seen them grow up. I will miss you so much. I still can not believe you are gone. I wish you didn't have to leave so soon. God must have had some other plans for you. Please dance for me. I love you so much. Thanks for all the special memories you gave me. I will hold them deep within my heart. I hope to continue to stay in touch with your sister. She is as sweet as you are. You really made everyone feel special. I love you and we will miss you.

“ You were such a kind soul. Everytime you called CHD where me and your daughter, Jackie, worked you would talk to me as I was your own child; always inquiring how things were going for me. Sometimes I was not sure if you knew it was me and you would laugh saying yes. I miss our talks about "up in the woods". I have and will continue to miss you.
