“ Dear Gregg, The loss of a parent is never an easy road to travel. However, you know where mom is and know that she is with our Heavenly Father. The memories and stories you will always share and in time joy and gratitude for all she did will prevail. Ryan and I are thinking of you. Melinda

“ My mom, my best friend, my confidant. You taught me how to love and how to be loved. You taught me how to nurture, how to be a friend. You told me that after God, put your husband first unless he beats or cheats; Never go to bed angry; always be polite, listen to your elders - including your brothers and sister. You said, “if you can't say anything nice don't say anything at all.” You brought me down to earth by saying, “you're making a mountain out of a molehill.” You taught me patience by saying “don't slam that door! Come back and close it nicely.” But my most favorite thing you said to me was “you'll always be my baby”.

“ When I think of Jean, I will always remember her as she was when leaving Nicole's graduation party with Cal, in the convertible, with the top down, and wearing her hat to protect her hairdo. I thought she had such spirit and such a love for life!!
