“ Oh my JerBear. Today I am missing you a little extra. it has been so odd being a mother with out my mother. I wish you could see Jason he is so big and smart and funny. He would have made you so proud. He just graduated High School and started COLLEGE. Our baby is in COLLEGE MOM! Remember when he would crawl around your apartment laughing and giggling so hard over everything. I wish he could remember you. I tell him all your stories . I talk to you often and I hope you hear me. Sometimes I get angry with you for leaving me and I am sorry for that. I know I am a big girl grown up now but there are days when I really just need my no nonsense straight to the point MOM.

It seems like every one is gone now. Life feels empty . I hope you are dancing in the sky with dad and hugging your Robbie everyday. I think about all of you so much and pray that you are truly with me. I look forward to the day we see each other again.

*Good Night Love you Sweet Dreams
Sandy. <3*

“ To the family of Jerry Ann Rottier I did not know Jerry Ann personally but Anita spoke of her often to my wife and I and we knew of her illness. We have something in common as my wife suffered from COPD for many years and then she developed bone cancer which took her from me two and a half years ago. I know what you are going thru and I feel deeply with all my heart for all of you. My wife was a poet who wrote hundreds of poems. I would like to share one of them with you.---God bless.. One Small Comfort I know your hurts are deep and the pain is hard to bear. Yet, inside I felt compelled-- in some small way to share. Words all seem so pointless-- at a time like this. Many, who would like to help-- may think--silence is bliss. There is no easy answer-- for all the hurts you feel. Only time can help mend-- broken hearts until they heal. Sometimes it's hard to understand-- the trials that we must face. It is not always easy-- to accept what is God's grace. There is, but one small comfort-- as we struggle to survive. Knowing we'll be united-- with a soul that never dies. Joan E. Schmidt

“ jerry was very kind , unjudgmental , she had a big heart, a way of making others feel welcome. what little she had she would gladly give or share with anyone. She was very kind to me during the times I was around she always treated me as family. I won't forget her, I saw first hand the rich love and the rare the bond she had between with her children. she will be missed. but I know she is finally at peace.

“ To My Cousins My Aunt Jerry was a wonderful woman who had a heart of gold. She would give anyone the shirt off her back if needed. I am sure she is at peace now, with my dad and grandma and Robbie and Uncle Edward. No more pain. I wish I could've seen her more these last few months. When I did see her a few months ago she was so happy to see me. She would ask if this was her Laurie when I called. If I can do anything for any of you please don't hesitate to ask. I too know what it's like to lose a parent. I am and always will be Her Laurie.

“ I spent a lot of time with my aunt Jerry when I was growing up and I will cherish all of my memories. In the last couple of years we would write and send cards back and forth. I feel very grateful that I got to visit with my aunt in October and that she was able to see my daughter Julia. Although I cannot be there at this time my thoughts and prayers are with all of you. Love you....Angela

“ To my nieces and nephews. You have my deepest sympathy. I know what it is to loose a mother. And now what it is to loose a sister. But our little Nanny will be forever in the embrace of our Heavenly Father. And I am sure that Grandma and Robbie welcomed her into the Kingdom of Heaven. My sister had a heart of gold. I remember When you kids were younger I came to you house one day only to see you're mother roller skating around the house in a short litter skirt, with her skinny little legs. Her and I would laugh about that day often. That is just one of the many memories that I have of my sister. She always looked forward to picking up little things for her grandkids. And always wanted to make she had a little something for them. If you kids need me in any way even if it is just to chat when you feel lonely please call me. Aunt Anita loves all of you. I loved you're mother very much and will miss her dearly. God Bless all of you. Love, Aunt Anita
