“ Uncle Steve & I send our Love & our Prayers. Know that even though we can't be there to hold everyone of you, we hold you in our hearts. Your mom & dad shared so many great times with us while all of you were growing into the wonderful caring adults that you have become. There is a song that I love, "There are Holes in the Floor of Heaven", and I know that she is looking down and telling you how proud of you that she is, and how much she loves all of you and so do we. Love, Aunt Marge & Uncle Steve

“ Chuck & I send our deepest and heartfelt sympathy for all of you. It is times like this that we really feel the homesickness, after nearly 18 years of living in Florida we still miss everyone. I will always cherish the memories of "family camping trips" when our mothers would pack us all up and take us up to Caseville and the dads would drive up on Friday evening when they got off of work. When they finally arrived 13 kids or more, depending how many friends had accompanied us would surround their car. I remember the lovely cakes that Aunt Jo so loving made for all of us and the stories about when the dog decided to snack on them as well. We wish that we could be there with all of you to celebrate your Mother's life but rest assured that our prayers are with you and your mom. I'm sure that she is celebrating her life with our Lord and the happiness of be reunited with your father in heaven. May God bless and be with you during the difficult and trying time in you lives. Love, Chuck and Debbie Wills

“ Dear family of Joann: She was a dear neighbor and friend. I am thankful for knowing her and witnessing her kind heart and caring ways. We had wonderful and challenging times working on the board of directors at our new condo Utica Woods and will always remember the laughter and friendship. You were a "spunky" and dedicated person. I enjoyed listening to your proud stories of your grandchildren. Stories about the "hockey player" and the "talented dancer". You were such a proud grandmother. I will miss you Joann...love , Cindy
