“ Our family was saddened to learn about John's death. It seems impossible to speak of any consolation in the face of such a bitter loss. Our grandmother/mother Helen Catsimpiris spoke of John often, admiring what a wonderful person, talented and caring neighbor; She knows that you and your family have suffered a great loss. We want you to know how much John's neighborly friendship and trustworthy help with Helen has meant to our family over the years. John made a difference in so many lives, including his neighborhood. With sincere personal sorrow, we wish to extend our condolences to your family.

Yours, very sincerely and respectfully,

“ *John,

My childhood home and street will not be the same without you.
How lucky my family was to live next-door to you for 40 plus years.
My sisters and I have so many lovely childhood memories of "good neighbor John". And then when we left home for college and adult life, we would still catch up with you each and every time we came home for a visit. With your smiles, waves and catch up chats, you always had a way of making us feel so special. You were such a kind and thoughtful man and I hope you know how very special you were to the 3 girls next door. I will miss you and remember you always.*

Love, Stephanie

“ John,

It's going to be so very different and sad coming back to my childhood home and not seeing you smile and wave when you get the mail and not having a friendly conversation with you as you rake the leaves. It will feel a little less like home without you there.

But I am so grateful for all of the wonderful memories I have of you. Memories of you giving roses to my sisters and I before our dance recitals. Memories of my sisters and I stopping by your house every Halloween to get a big bag full of candy that always coordinated with what sport we were currently playing. Memories of you coming over while I played basketball out front and helping me with my free throws (“always aim for the back of the rim”).

You were the most wonderful, thoughtful and kindhearted man. I will miss you dearly. Life is full of small moments -- I will remember, appreciate, and cherish all of the small moments my family and I have had with you, our “good neighbor John.”

*Love,
Britney*

“ John, you were more than a brother-in-law, you were a brother! You were always just so nice to everyone, not only to my sister, Irene, but to the rest of the family, especially my mom, dad, uncles, nieces and nephews. You were the best chitchat person my husband could've had sitting as his co-pilot keeping him entertained on our vacations, the best fisherman friend my dad could've asked for, you even sat in for Karen on days when her receptionist didn't make it to work and you were a baby-sitter when we needed one. Gonna miss you soooooooooo much. So much. What a loss to our family. I'm sure when Jesus welcomed you he said, "Well done, good and faithful servant." RIP John!
Love, Dolores & Jerry
