“ I can't believe it has been almost seven years since we have seen you. We think about you everyday and miss you more than you will know. A lot has happened in the last seven years, but my love for you will always be the same. I love you dad and the other day, I began to worry that I would not remember your voice, but I did, I heard you say "Action". LOL I can't wait to see you again when the Lord calls me home and we have a glorious family reunion. I love you forever and always.

“ Dad, I miss you so much!!! I'm trying to move on. I know you are ok and I know that you are with Jesus, but I can't say goodbye. I don't want to say goodbye. Your birthday just passed and God told me that he gave you your birthday card from us, so I'm sure you had a wonderful birthday. It's been six months since you have gone home and I don't know how I am suppose to spend the remainder of my time here without you. I have been trying to be strong and I have been trying to do what I think you would want me to do, but it gets hard at times and when things get really rough, I want to call you to help me and to bring me comfort and you are not there. I don't feel as though I have anyone to lean on with you being gone. I need you dad and I am having a hard time without you. Dad, I'm sorry that I was not the daughter that you deserved and I pray that you will forgive me for being a spoiled brat. I love you more than you will ever know. Love, Shannie
