“ John was a friend of my brother Gary, and he was over our house a lot when we were growing up. Sometimes he would bring his dog Cindy to visit our dog Fritz. John was a sweet, soft spoken guy who smiled a lot. He became like family to us.

Our sympathy goes out to John's family. You will be in our prayers.

“ Maltese bread and pastizzi.... John's favourites in Malta. So many memories. The quiet brother-in-law with a sense of humour that put smiles on everyone's face. The tall handsome man, with the jewelry, cowboy hat and western 🎵 music. He was a gentleman of few words but his smile said it all! Fly high John, we love you and will miss your presence.

“ I was honored to be accepted into the inner sanctum/ escape/man-cave/tv room where John would lounge in his Laz-E-Boy to watch movies or sporting events..
He was quiet, had an easy way about him, and we would quip back and forth on life in general during the short time when i was visiting.. the thing i remember about him was his subtle sense of humor and the wry smile that would creep over his face as he dispatched nuggets of observations about friends and family...most of all, he was just a good guy and the world needs more like him... “ One of the best people I've ever known, his kindness will never be forgotten. A beautiful man who I've always looked at in awe, he was more special than any words I can use to describe him. Coors beer will always remind me of him. Heaven went up a few notches when you passed, Uncle John.
