The Broken Chain

We little knew that morning that God was going to call your name. In life we loved you dearly In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you, you did not go alone; for part of us went with you, the day God called you home.

You left us peaceful memories, your love is still our guide; and though we cannot see you, you are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same, but as God calls us one by one, the Chain will link again

“ I have known Josh since high school and then worked with him many winters doing snow removal, they were long horrible nights, (i swear thats always when we had to go out lol) but annoying Josh in the truck on the way to the next job was always my favorite part of it. We often gave each other advice and he was a great friend when I truly needed one! Also anytime i hear an Eminem and Riri song i think about him and Natalie, they were nice enough to let me have one of their extra tickets and we went to the concert together.

“ Josh will always hold a special place in my heart. I was privileged to be his Godmother and glad to share many happy family times with him. He was a conscientiousness worker and a loving family man. He will be greatly missed. May God's love comfort his beautiful wife and children.

“ When my lawn service never showed up and did not contact me to say he was not going to provide the service, I was frantic. I called so many lawn services that I found online but no one would help me out. Many said they had too many customers. Then I called Josh. He came that day after completing his work for the day. He cut my lawn there and then, and became my "lawn guy." That's a good man. Bless you, Josh. S. Innes
