“ I was saddened to learn of Joy's death. I first met her in the 1960s when she was a member of my mother's Scout troop. Joy was an enthusiastic Scout. She stayed in touch with my mother, Mildred Angeles, over the years even after my mother moved to California in 1988. Joy faithfully contacted her every Christmas season up until my mother's death in 2017 at the age of 94. That meant a lot to my mother and it was always wonderful to hear Joy's voice over the telephone. My mother had difficulty walking from birth and eventually became wheelchair bound. Joy couldn't see. But they both moved beyond those limitations to live lives that were often more full than those of us who are "temporarily able bodied."

“ To my Sister: We were never extremely close as brother and sister when we were younger. I remember bringing you insects,rodents and how you liked the snakes I would bring you, That way you could feel them and they would wrap their tail around your arm. I never really thought much about you being blind and was proud of you moving into a place of your own and having your independence. It was not until Mother got ill and later passed away that I realized how different and difficult your life had been without sight. We became much closer after that. I know all thru your life you missed seeing what you could heard. Well Joy where you are going you will have your sight and can look down on earth and see everything and be with your Friends and Family.

I will miss you. Your loving Brother Chuck.
