“ I did Kathy's hair for years, when I retired I still did her hair. She would call and I would go, we had great conversations, she talked about her granddaughter Mary all the time, she would say she was her saving grace. I will miss our visits.

“ I first met Kathleen about 6ish years ago when I started shopping for her. I ended up building a rapport with her and she bacame my Shipt Grandma. After my own grandma passed away in 2021, I told Kathy she eas promoted to just grandma. I would visit with her for hours. She always hrlid the best conversations, made the funniest jokes and was always so whitty. We would talk about food recipes and her millions of copies of them that she had. She would talk about her life with her husband and kids when they were young, all of the traveling they did. She loved when I brought my kids over to visit. When my husband would go visit they would have all of the political conversations their hearts desired. They are definitely now enjoying those talks together. Unfortunately, the past couple of years I was unable to be there. The memories and chats will last forever.
