“ I'm so thankful that I spent several hours with her at the nursing home recently because we laughed about everything and really enjoyed our time together. Then I sat with her for an hour at the hospital this past Saturday. She couldn't talk with me but I prayed over her, talked with her, sang to her and played Christian music for her. I brushed her beautiful white hair that my mom always wished she would've gotten too. I told her I love her and kissed her a bunch of times, knowing it was probably going to be the last time that I got to spend time with her on this earth. I know I'll see her in Heaven and I'm glad she's home with Jesus! I can only imagine the smile on her face when she saw Him and that brings peace to my heart! ❤️

Angela—I don't think we've ever met, but your post about the smile on Lily's face when she saw Jesus brings tears to my eyes, but joy to my soul! I know she is at peace with her Savior.
