“ My sympathy to the family. No one is ever prepared for the death of a loved one. Mere words cannot convey the overwhelming feeling of disbelief that can result from the death of a loved one. May it comfort you to know God promises that the dead will live again.- Isaiah 26:19

“ We are so sorry to hear of Lynn's passing. This must be so painful for all of you.

Lynn and I sure had some good times pushing those Jo-Lyn Fashions racks into all those senior homes. She was one hard worker. We wish Gods blessings and peace to you, Bob, and to all the family and friends. Love, Gene and Joanie

“ *My road has met its end,
looking back,
it has been strewn with challenges.
However, God has never promised perfection.
Nor is it defined in any passages. When looking back, what I really find is that the pain was just an illusion, that the trials were really a pathway to love.
I don't know that I could have been luckier
to be blessed with all of you.
So, despite this end that I have found, I've lived, I've loved, and I've gone off road.
It seems I must travel now
to a new abode.
Do not cry for a soul set free.
It's all part of God's plan,
another stage of my destiny.
Do not cry for me,
for this is not the end of my journey.*

“ she was an amazing woman and the best mother -in -law anyone one could even dream of having!!! I have been caring for her everyday since the beginning of September! she was such a wonderful woman I miss her everyday! please pray for peace for the family and for the good lord to wrap his arms around her a hug her tight! she was my mother-in-law but became my mom and dearest friend! I feel so blessed that she was a big part of my life!!
