“ I had been a lay minister for Trinity assisting the Pastors with hospital as well as convalescent home visitations. I first met Margaret when she was brought to Henry Ford Hospital a few years ago (I believe for pneumonia). I introduced myself to Margaret. She reached out to hold my hand and gently pulled me closer so that our faces were inches apart where she could see and hear me better. She looked deeply into my eyes and told me she was ready to see Jesus. I asked if I could pray for her. As I prayed I started tearing up and with a crackling voice got through the prayer. I looked up to see the nurse in the room crying as well. I had lost my own elderly mother 6 months prior and Margaret reminded me so much of her in that they both were ready to be with Jesus. Jesus wasn't quite ready for Margaret at that time and as I continued to visit her periodically I could see why. To me she was one of if not the sweetest lady I ever met. When I would show up for a visit I didn't know if she would be curled up in a bed in the hallway appearing to be close to seeing Jesus or sitting up eating lunch with others. She always surprised me. I know that she made an impression on me with her sweetness that I will never forget and I can't imagine she didn't have that same affect on others. Thank you Jesus for giving her extra time on earth for others like me to be blessed by getting to know this kind, sweet lady. I have no doubt she is spreading that sweetness in Heaven as well. AI
