“ While I only met Mark and Marci's Dad one time, I picked up on the very close relationship that Mark and his father shared. It made me realize that these two men had shared some of the best times of their lives, together. Many people go through life longing for that type of friendship with their parents, and I believe that shared bond is a true testament to the character/makeup of your family. Rest in Peace, Mr. W.

“ I enjoyed the time I spent with the Woebeking family during high school. I remember Mr. Woebeking's enthusiasm for skiing and his attempts at teaching me to ski better. I say attempts because I was not the best student! I wish Mrs. Woebeking, Mark, Marci and their families my sincerest sympathy and love. Melinda Everett Tison
