“ Oh Mummie. You were missed soo much on Christmas. It is never going to be the same, but I believe this was the hardest. It is a wonderful feeling though that you were still there. We are moving on but there will always be that void. The only thing that comes close to filling that void is the wonderful memories. Thank you for those. Love you forever....

“ Mummie it is now four weeks I miss you more than ever. things have happened that i would love to share with you. the other day i had a key problem. it was silly. I missed calling you to share to fun with you. I could just hear your laugh and you would say to me "oh boy what did scott say?". I was ironing the other day and wanted to call you. so i talked to you anyway. I hope you heard me. I love you mummie and miss you and your smile and laughter and talks and all of you soooooooooo much.

“ Dear Big Nana, i love you so much. you mean the world to me. i remember all the special times that we had. when i was driving home the other day from your house, i passed the ice cream shop that you always used to take me to. i remember it perfectly. we would sit in the back at the picnic tables and lick our vanilla custards. it was the best. i remember every moment with you and i would love for you to know how much you meant to me. you were the perfect big nana, and still are. no one will ever replace you or even come close. you have always been close to my heart and will forever be. i love you so much and im so glad that you are now out of pain and are in peace. you are in such a better place and god needed you there and now he has you. i love you. ~Amanda Ann
