“Marydell and I were friends for many years. I did not know she died. She was ill and told me I was on a list to call if something happened to her but I got no call. When I tried to reach her on her birthday I got concerned. She was the kindest most loving friend. She is with Conrad now. I will miss my friend ❤️. Carol Rhodus Mississippi

“From the moment I met her, Mary Dell's actions demonstrated "in the world but not of it" to me and that piqued my curiosity. She also embodied the heart of an adoptive Mother and as such, I connected deeply with her and continue to appreciate the encouragement she spoke to me when she knew I so needed it.

My heart and prayers are with her church family in Detroit, as I know she is dearly missed and things aren't the same without her. I pray for healing for your body, for comfort in grief, for companionship in mourning, and for the joy of the Lord to strengthen you all. In Jesus' name, Amen.

With Christ's love, Christina Fuelling (member, The Lakeland Church)

“ I have known Mary Dell since I was 17 years old. I am now 72 years old. Her beloved husband, Elder Conrad Jarrell, and I were very close friends and fellow ministers of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was a blessing to serve her as her pastor in the later years of her life. She understood the life of a pastor and was very supportive of this ministry. From time to time I would share memories of Conrad both publicly and in private conversations. She always loved this. She adored her husband. We had some good laughs from some of those memories. But she was ready to quit this world for the far better things above. By grace it is our hope as believers, especially those of us in advanced age, to join her before long.

“ We were blessed to be a part of Mary Dell's life. She was kind and loving. She welcomed us into her life and was more than a friend to us. We would say she never met a person she did not like. We never heard her utter an unkind word about anybody. She loved the LORD with all her heart. She also was an devoted wife of the beloved Conrad. We are truly missing her. with all our love, Caie and Kendra Morrice

I will truly miss Mary Dell and her sweet spirit, she was so strong. But now her suffering is over and I trust that she is singing sweeter strains on high beside her beloved Conrad. He's probably smiling ear to ear to finally have her there with him together to worship Our Savior. If anyone gets a well done good and faithful servant, it should be Mary Dell. I will miss seeing you in Bible study Mary Dell and I shall never forget you. Until we meet again, my friend. ❤️
