“ I wish I had met your dear mother and wife. I feel I know a bit of her through you, Jayme, and Mary. She was one very fine human being! Mrs. Wilson was an inspiration to Mary. She showed her love, courage, generosity, and humor. Mary deeply regrets she could not be with you but just know her heart and thoughts were with each of you! Mary is still home ill today. I know your mom and wife will be with each of you especially now as you were all there for her!

“ Nancy's Family: I was so saddened to hear about Nancy. I remember her fondly from our days at PHC. She had such a zest for life and an infectious laugh. I hope she finds friendship in Heaven with my 22 year old daughter Katherine who passed away Oct. 2006. My thoughts and prayers are with you all. Fondly, Connie Frumveller Kain

“ This Van Morrison song has always been one of my favorite "spiritual" songs, though perhaps not in an overt way. As always, songs are open to many interpretations, and as I write out the lyrics, you may have your own. But I chose this special song of mine to honor my sister's memory as I feel "the sea" is merely a metaphor for life's journey and the "fog horn call" is the beckoning of St. Gabriel calling a loved one home to heaven. Nancy has now joined our father in heaven and I hope that both of them can help me with my "fear of the foghorn" when my time to end this earthly journey arrives and guide me as we "flow into the mystic." Oh, but how I'd just love to float on the sea of Nancy's memories and "rock her gypsy soul" again. Her memories will live on whenever I see the river or the lake. GOD BLESS ALL OF YOU WHO I WAS ABLE TO MEET THESE LAST FEW DAYS. You have truly supported and helped our family. You are all heroes in my eyes. Martha INTO THE MYSTIC by Van Morrison "We were born before the wind Also younger than the sun 'Ere the bonnie boat was won As we sailed into the mystic. Hark now, hear the sailors cry Smell the sea and feel the sky. Let your soul and spirit fly Into the mystic. When the fog horn blows I will be coming home Oh, when that foghorn whistle blows, I want to hear it I don't want to fear it. Oh, I want to rock your gypsy soul Just like way back in the days of old And magnificently we will flow Into the mystic. Come on girl Too late to stop now" P.S. Guess I'd better post this before I get all supercalifragilistic perfectionist.

“ I am deeply saddened by Nancy's death. She was truly a great friend. We shared many good times and helped each other through the bad times. She was a strong spirit and was an inspiration to all who must fight this terrible disease. I will truly miss her unique way of looking at the world. All my sympathy to Don, Jeff, Jayme and family.

“ It is with great sadness Nancy's Beaumont family receives the news of her death. She exemplified the highest standards of compassionate care in her interaction with our patients and families. She was a delight to work with and will be deeply missed. Her own strength and courage in facing illness and ultimately death have been an inspiration to all who knew her. Our prayers will be with Donald and the family.
