“ How I miss my dearest friend. There are so many wonderful memories over the 55 years we have been friends. I remember joking with her that we should write a book. My children Bob and Cheryl also have cherished memories over at her house while they were growing up. My daughter still calls her Wyoming because as a child she could not pronounce her name correctly. She was a strong woman in her faith and dedicated to her family. The many prayer sessions we had together were always answered by God. Her generosity had no end. I will never forget you. You were loved. Until I see you again my friend.
