

Patricia J. Cook

July 13, 1942 - November 8, 2020

Patricia Jean Cook, age 78, passed away on November 8, 2020. She was born on July 13, 1942 in Detroit to Charles Eugene Cope and Hazel Louise McKinney. She resided in Hazel Park for many years and later moved to Fife Lake, where she and her husband, Don, enjoyed the solitude of the woods. Recently she moved back to the local area to be closer to family. Patricia was formerly employed with Elias Brothers at the main headquarters in Warren. She was employed as a secretary for their landscaping department. In her spare time, she enjoyed sewing, crafting and researching family history.

Beloved wife of the late Donald, who preceded her in death on April 26, 2005. Loving mother of William (Lisa) Cook, Melissa (Mike) McDonald and Clayton Cook. Proud grandmother of Collin Cook, Devyn McDonald and Michael McDonald, Jr. Dear sister of Tracy (Kathy) Cope and the late Sandi (Frank, still living) Nicholson.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, there will be no public services. Memorial contributions to American Cancer Society are appreciated. Share your memories at www.sullivanfuneraldirectors.com.

“ Bill, Jim and I are so sorry to hear about your moms passing... Jim was telling me about the contractor up north that built your house backward... and a refrigerator magnet that said something like “ to all you sixteen year olds, get out now, while you know everything” ... you are in our thoughts
