“ I still can't believe you are gone mom. It doesn't seem real and I don't know if it is because I don't want it to be real yet. I never thought that I would lose you at this time in my life, when it seemed I need you the most. I talked with you about everything, calling at least once a day. Having jaxon and Emma talk to you on the phone. I don't know what I'm gonna do not being able to talk to you and hear your voice. I would just like to know why this had to happen!? I still need you more than ever and I have never felt this kind of pain before. I know that you are not in pain anymore. I hope, so if that's what it takes is me having the pain of losing you so that you are no longer in pain.. I can deal with that for you. I love you more than anything just wish I could hug and kiss you and talk to you one more time. I'm just glad that I got to tell you how happy you made my childhood and you said I'm glad you said that because I had doubts. Well don't have any doubts you made growing up the best thing ever and I wouldn't change one moment. You were are still are the best mother and grandmother ever and believe me Emma and jaxon will know who you are. Love you mom, please check in everyone in a while I still need you. And I know Tricia does too. <3

Patty, We may have parted ways years ago but we always managed to talk and open up to each other about what was bothering us, I know you had some very hard times throughout your life and together we managed to make it better, You were a great loving mother and a very good friend. I'll miss talking to you. Bob
