“ I knew Pat for quite a few years before we discovered our mutual fondness for sheep. The fact that we both loved sheep brought us lots of connections, from Pat giving me a home-made sheep for Christmas and sharing her book on breeds of sheep and where they are raised. Once I posted a picture on Facebook of a beautiful landscape starring sheep. Pat commented on the post and I responded that I wished I could get a photo of the picture so I could keep it always. Guess what--I have that post framed beautifully in our family room! Pat had Harry copy it, with a choice of sized, and bring it to me at church. Isn't that just SO Pat! Pat and Sheep are just so loveable. Her memory is a blessing and a treasure.
