“ Springfield Oaks, Rum and Coke, smelly cigars, good looking church usher, Fr. TJ, butterscotch pie, chocochip bar cookies, NO BROCCOLI, fours jacks and the man with the axe, iced tea that looked like a specimen, Steeler Nation at Nick's, Heinz Field with Jeannie Beannie and Booger, that darn coin toss at the Silverdome, hanging out with Mr Ham at Hooters, how much you loved Aunt Barb, sponsoring my confirmation, calling you and Uncle Billevery St Patty's Day no matter where I was, an understanding St Heights police officer who saw the urgency in your face, your diamond cutter driving glasses, joy ride in your 442, your annual prize at the Chico's Golf Invitational, talking with you last week, the way you stack your poker coins, lots of ice, large print playing cards, the perfect way you said grace before family meals, my friends Dave and Sue driving you home from my house, hearty handshakes and heartier laughter, and....two dimes and a nickel. We love you Uncle Pat and will never forget you.
